To The Applicant:

The Family Educational and Privacy Act of 1974 gives students the right to inspect their records including letters of recommendation. While we consider all letters of recommendation carefully, we believe that letters written in confidence are of greater utility in assessing a student's qualifications, abilities, and promise. We therefore invite (but do not require) you to sign the following waiver. If you do not sign it, it is understood that you have the right to read these recommendations.

I waive the right given me by the Family Educational and Privacy Act of 1974 to examine these recommendations.
